

PRIVACY POLICY

Panaché's privacy policy applies only to information collected by this website.

Information collection, use and sharing:

We are the sole owners of the information collected on this website. We have access to the collection of information you voluntarily give us by email or other direct contact from you. We will not sell or rent this information to anyone.

We will use your information to respond to you about why you contacted us. We will not share your information with third parties outside of our organization except as necessary to fulfill your request.

Unless you ask us not to, we may contact you by email in the future to inform you about special offers, new products or services, or changes to this Privacy Policy.

Access and Control of Information

You can unsubscribe from any future contact with us at any time.

You can do the following at any time by contacting us using the email address provided on our website:

- See what information we have about you, if any.
- Edit/correct any information we have about you.
- Ask us to delete any information we have about you.
- Express any concerns about our use of your data.

Your consent to privacy is within the disclaimer form:

www.cyclingpanache.com/documents

Security:

We take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information through the Web site, your information is protected both online and offline.

Only those staff who need the information to perform a specific job (such as billing or customer service) have access to personally identifiable information.

The computers/servers on which we store personally identifiable information are stored in a secure environment.

Updates:

Our Privacy Policy may change and all updates will be posted on this page.

If you believe that for any reason we do not comply with this Privacy Policy, you should contact us immediately by email.